INTRODUCTION

The role of education is very large in realizing a complete and independent human being as well as being a noble and beneficial human being for society. Humans not only live alone but also interact with other humans both in the community and work environment. Hamalik (2001) explains that education is a process in order to influence students to be able adapt as best as possible to the environment and thus cause changes in themselves that allow them to function strongly in community life.

The emergence of the COVID-19 outbreak has also had an impact on the education sector in the world and in Indonesia. The Minister of Education and Culture explained that the condition of the COVID-19 Pandemic did not allow teaching and learning activities to take place normally. There are hundreds of thousands of schools closed to prevent it from spreading, around 68 million students are engaged in learning from home, and around four million teachers are engaged in remote teaching (Kemendikbud, 2020).

Therefore, the teacher must take the initiative for students so that they do not feel bored when they do not meet face to face by only presenting the learning material as usual, but the teacher can use the media as a learning tool where there are education values contained therein. One of media that they can use is movie.

One of the entertainment media that can have an impact or influence on children's character development is movie media. Movie media that has good positive values can function as a reflection of life about the struggles in viewpoints or learning for children (Payuyasa & Primayana, 2020).

Movie is a powerful teaching tool because it connects thoughts and emotions. Research shows that when people activate their emotions, they will learn and remember the best things. The visual image of the movie is also a key element of its effectiveness as a learning tool (Marcotic, 2008).

Mangunhardjana (1976) movies can enrich life experiences, but also cover deeper aspects of life. Through movie, people can learn new ways of life and behavior. There are lots of movie titles that contain education values that come from abroad and from within the country. The education values conveyed in each movie also vary, such as moral education values, social education values, cultural education values and also after watching benefits such as education, inspiration, and entertaining.

In this research researcher used "Big Brother" movie by Ka-Wai Kam. Big Brother movie tells about a former soldier who became a homeroom teacher of trouble students. They underestimated him and they don't care about study. But he uses unique ways to approach them and make them good students in school also society with helps from their parents.

Researcher used 18 Character Education Values by KEMENDIKNAS to find out Character Education Values in "Big Brother" movie. And researcher also looking for benefits after watching it.

Based on the description above, researcher are interested in observing and finding out what character education values found in big brother movie by Ka-Wai Kam.
